COMMISSIONER KOLAKOWSKI RECEIVES SEMCOG'S HIGHEST HONOR

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. – Macomb County Commissioner Diana Kolakowski was given a 2005 Regional Ambassador Award by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Kolakowski, D-Sterling Heights, was one of three recipients of SEMCOG's highest honor. The award is given annually to those who "continue to make Southeast Michigan a better place to live and raise a family." Other recipients this year were St. Clair Shores Mayor Robert Hison and George Goodman, retired executive director of the Michigan Municipal League.

A representative of Macomb County with SEMCOG for the past 18 years, Kolakowski has served on numerous committees and task forces, covering a wide range of regional issues, including transportation and the environment.

Kolakowski has been a champion for regional issues during her more than 23 years of service on the Macomb County Board of Commissioners. She is a past chair of the County Board and the SEMCOG board.
